Has the economic situation had an impact on the financing granted?

Despite a slowdown in the economic situation in the second half of the year, Crédit Mutuel Alliance Fédérale was more than ever alongside all members and customers in their projects. This support was able to take place effectively thanks to decisions made as close as possible to the field: more than nine out of ten credit decisions were made locally, within the Crédit Mutuel and CIC networks.

This resulted in an increase in our outstanding loans: outstanding home loans reached €254.4 billion (+6.9%), consumer credit activities increased by +7.6% to €51 billion while agricultural, professional and corporate customers benefited from the strong increase in equipment loans (+13.4%) to €115.2 billion.

What is your outlook for the group in 2023?

2022 was a year of overall performance for our group, from a commercial, environmental, societal and financial point of view. As the first banking group to adopt the status of a mission-driven company, Crédit Mutuel Alliance Fédérale intends to increase its commitments in 2023. First of all, by strengthening its presence with our members, customers and prospects. The group is also transforming the way in which value is shared through the societal dividend mechanism.

How did you experience 2022?

2022 was a strange year in several respects. We were gradually emerging from the health crisis, which was a period marked by the exceptional commitment of the group and its employees to support our customers, when the return of war in Europe once again upset the balance.

From February, the Russian offensive in Ukraine and its impact on energy prices significantly amplified price increases. While disruptions in supply chains were maintained by the continued zero-Covid policy in Asia.

Faced with this uncertain context, Crédit Mutuel Alliance Fédérale has met the expectations of its 30 million customers and 6 million members. The group’s 77,000 employees mobilized in the Crédit Mutuel and CIC networks as well as in all its business lines and specialized subsidiaries, for the benefit of all customers and prospects.

How did this mobilization take shape?

From the beginning of the year, strong actions were initiated in favor of the customers most affected by inflation, in all regions. Particularly attentive to the repercussions of inflation on low income households, our banking advisors have, since April 2022, taken strong initiatives such as the 100,000 emergency inflation meetings or the active promotion of regulated passbook savings accounts, to best protect their savings. In 2022, openings of Livrets d’Epargne Populaire (LEP) was multiplied by 3.5, and inflows were particularly high on Livret A savings accounts (+10.5% year-on-year, to more than €47 billion in outstandings). To protect the most vulnerable people, the group also launched the first banking offer at €1 net per month, without the possibility of incident fees - an original initiative on the French banking market.

Launching in January 2023, the societal dividend will support the financing of the environmental and solidarity-revolution. This will result, on the one hand, in the launch of an environmental and solidarity-revolution fund whose added value will be ecological, and on the other hand, with the deployment of inclusive banking and insurance services or by the multiplication of actions of sponsorship throughout the regions.

And of course, we are building the future: 2023 is the last year of the ensemble#nouveaumonde, plus vite, plus loin / (togethertoday’s world faster, further) strategic plan. As of today, work has begun to develop the next plan!

Being a member: getting involved in the life of your bank

At Crédit Mutuel Alliance Fédérale, the capital of each Crédit Mutuel bank is held by its customer-members in the form of cooperative shares. Customer-members participate in the decisions of their bank and monitor its proper management. Under the "one person, one vote" model, each member has one vote at Shareholders’ Meetings. This status makes it possible to develop individual initiatives around the collective interest. As an autonomous credit institution, the local bank is the foundation of the cooperative organization.

The bank, a place for regional and local democracy

The cooperative organization promotes local roots and in-depth knowledge of members and local projects. This proximity is also expressed in decision-making: nearly 90% of loans are granted locally at Crédit Mutuel banks or CIC branches.

Frédéric-Guillaume Raiffeisen, the pioneer behind mutualism

Born in Germany in 1818, this son of a farmer who became mayor laid the foundation for mutualism as we know it today.

At the time, farmers had to use loan sharks to improve their working tools or deal with climate hazards. Convinced that mutual support translated into sharing and cooperation, Frédéric-Guillaume Raiffeisen founded the local credit banks. Within these banks, whether a lender or a borrower, an asset owner or a poor farmer, each member has one vote and may be elected as a director. All members are strictly equal in terms of position and responsibility.

These principles are still in place today at all Crédit Mutuel banks.
